

Bernie's Organic Attribution by Page & Product

Source: Wicked Reports first-click attribution, May 1 to 31, 2026. Pages are grouped into product clusters; perfectpoop.dog (which now redirects to the store) and helpmydogpoop.com roll into Perfect Poop, along with attribution rows that carry sales but no clicks.

What this is. This maps Wicked Reports' first-click revenue to the pages and products that earned it, for May 1 to 31, 2026. Section 1 shows Wicked's organic totals for the month. Sections 2 to 4 break that revenue down by page, and only pages that drove a sale appear there, so they hold almost all of the revenue but only part of the clicks (see the note under section 1). Read "clicks" in those tables as visits to sales-driving pages, not total site traffic. Wicked "sales" are fractional credits rather than whole orders, so they show decimals. Pages that can't belong to a single product (checkout, account, subscription, order confirmation) are grouped as Checkout / Account. The store (store.bernies.com), perfectpoop.dog and helpmydogpoop.com are not in Google Search Console, so their keyword data comes from DataForSEO (section 5).

1 · Topline: Complete vs Pure Organic

Wicked Reports channel totals for May 1 to 31, 2026. These are the figures to cross-check against Wicked.

COMPLETE ORGANIC (WICKED "ORGANIC")

SOCIAL

$363

1.5% · 10.2 sales · 762 clicks

What the page tables below cover. Across organic in May, Wicked counted 24,115 clicks/views, 556.2 sales and $23,711. The tables in sections 2 to 4 cover the 304 pages that earned first-click credit: together they hold $23,709 of that revenue and 547 of 556 sales, but only 15,337 of 24,115 clicks (63.6%). The rest of the clicks went to pages that drove no attributed sale that month. For Organic Search alone, these pages hold 1,687 of 4,010 clicks.

2 · Product view (normalized)

Every sales-driving page mapped to a product/cluster. Complete = all Wicked channels; Pure Organic = Organic Search only. The total row foots to the pages that drove sales (see the note under section 1). Click a column heading to sort.

Cluster	Complete clicks	Complete sales	Complete rev	Pure-Org clicks	Pure-Org sales	Pure-Org rev
Perfect Poop (85 pages)	3,518	226.5	$10,212	940	126.9	$5,996
Brand / Homepage (11 pages)	3,637	140.2	$6,022	373	35.1	$1,653
Checkout / Account (86 pages)	300	94.5	$3,756	33	3.8	$102
Charming Chompers (5 pages)	2,018	43.1	$1,934	95	25.7	$1,236
Marvelous Mobility (1 page)	1,651	13.9	$709	84	8.6	$392
OMG Omegas (5 pages)	1,756	12.1	$448	62	4.6	$149

TOTAL (pages with sales)	15,337	547.1	$23,709	1,687	216.1	$9,981

Perfect Poop and the Brand/Homepage rows carry most organic-search revenue. The homepage/brand figure is largely branded search ("bernies"), not category SEO, so keep it separate from the product-category opportunity in section 4.

4 · Untapped potential: the other products

Organic-search revenue each product earns today, next to how much category demand it could reach. "Untapped" keywords are category searches where no Bernie's page currently ranks in the top 100 (from the Q3 strategy). Click a column heading to sort.

Product	Organic-search rev (now)	Organic sales	Store page ranks (non-brand)	Untapped keywords	Untapped monthly searches	Addressable demand
Perfect Poop	$5,996	126.9	13 / 32 kw	1,011	1,375,510
Healthy Hips	$239	6.0	4 / 5 kw	1,001	443,900
OMG Omegas	$149	4.6	7 / 8 kw	622	426,280
Charming Chompers	$1,236	25.7	3 / 7 kw	678	244,310
Marvelous Mobility	$392	8.6	0 / 2 kw	26	710

The pattern. Organic-search sales are concentrated in Perfect Poop. The other four products convert almost nothing from organic search despite large category demand: Healthy Hips (about 444K monthly searches) and OMG Omegas (about 426K) are close to invisible. This is not lost ground, because the store product pages never ranked on their plain category terms ("dog joint supplement", "fish oil for dogs", "dog dental chews"). The fix is to build out those store product pages: refresh the page content, add product schema, and link to them from existing blog posts. The strategy target is to grow the store product pages ranking in the top 20 for their own category terms from 3 today to 30 by month 2 and 80 by month 3.

5 · Keyword rankings per page (DataForSEO)

URL-level ranked keywords (DataForSEO Labs) across Bernie's four organic domains, including the store.bernies.com product pages and the microsites that Search Console can't see. Estimated organic clicks (etv) are shown raw and normalized to Wicked's Organic-Search clicks/views (anchor 4,010).

RANKED KEYWORDS (DEDUPED) 1,021 across 4 organic domains	EST. ORGANIC CLICKS / MO 7,411 DataForSEO etv, summed across ranked URLs	NORMALIZED TO WICKED OS CLICKS 4,010 anchor = Wicked Organic-Search clicks/views (May) · ×0.5411 etv is an estimate, not measured traffic. DataForSEO models the monthly organic clicks each keyword→URL earns at its current position. Wicked measured 4,010 Organic-Search clicks/views in May. The two use different methods, so the "normalized" column simply rescales etv so its total matches Wicked's 4,010, letting you compare pages on one footing; the raw etv stays beside it so neither is mistaken for the other. DataForSEO run cost $0.1457 (cap $10).

5.1 · The Search Console blind spot: store + microsites store.bernies.com ranks for 56 keywords, but by clicks it is about 97% branded: only around 78 of its roughly 2,546 estimated monthly clicks (~3%) come from non-brand terms, and those are tiny-volume tail or competitor-brand queries ("poop cheese" at rank 2; "greenies hip & joint"). The store earns its organic clicks almost entirely on its own brand and product names and captures essentially none of the high-demand category terms in section 4, which is consistent with the store-gap deep dive. perfectpoop.dog now 301-redirects to the store product page, so it has no independent rankings of its own (its authority consolidates into the store); helpmydogpoop.com is the one remaining microsite and is organically near-dead. This is exactly what Search Console structurally can't show.

Domain	Ranked kw	Est. clicks/mo	Status
bernies.com	1,000	7,396	ranked store.bernies.com	56	2,546	ranked perfectpoop.dog	0	0	no ranked kw
helpmydogpoop.com	1	10	ranked

5.2 · Ranked keywords by product cluster

Same clusters as the product view. Category = generic demand; brand = navigational ("bernie's ..."). Normalized clicks rescale etv to the Wicked Organic-Search anchor; the last two columns are Wicked's own attributed Organic-Search figures for the same cluster.

Cluster	Ranked kw	Category / brand	Est. clicks/mo	Normalized clicks	Wicked OS clicks	Wicked OS rev
